Dear BrandTech Customers,

With the situation and conditions surrounding the COVID-19 pandemic changing by the day and even by the hour, we want to update you regarding our current operations.

BrandTech Scientific currently remains open and able to receive orders and ship product as allowed by third party shipping and logistics. We have implemented a remote work strategy for our non-essential personnel so that we can answer any inquires you may have while enhancing the safety of our employees. Our team is here to support your important research and work and is available by phone, e-mail and web chat. We appreciate your support of BrandTech Scientific during this time.

As situations change, we will update as necessary.

Sincerely,
Stephen Brinkmann
President & CEO
